NEW MEDICAL CONCEPTION OF DEATH

Few indeed are the men and women of full age—say twenty-five—who have not yet contracted the malady that will kill them, according to that distinguished scientist and physician, Dr. Felix Renault, as reported in Current Literature. Normally, as contemporary investigators are beginning to find out, it takes twenty years for a fatal malady to kill a patient. It may take thirty years. The popular impression is that a man may die suddenly or that he may only require a year to die in or six months. To be sure, a man may be killed or a child may die in a few months at the age of one year. But about ninety-five per cent of civilized adults are now stricken with a fatal disease. They do not know it. They may suffer from it. In due time they will have their cases diagnosed as cancer, or as tuberculosis or diabetes or what not. But so inveterate are current misconceptions of the nature of death that the origin of the fatal malady—in time—will be misdiagnosed by from ten to thirty years.

In the case of human beings, death—barbaric accident—is nearly always by some specific malady. This malady is as likely as not to be cured—what is called "cured." The "cure", however, no matter how skillful the treatment or how slight the disease, has left a weakness behind it in some particular organ of the body. One of the organs is, if not prematurely worn out, at least so worn that its resisting powers are greatly diminished.

All of us in this way when we have reached a certain age possess an organ that is much older than the rest of the physique. One day we shall die because of this organ. Even if we live to be very old indeed, we shall not die of "old age", but of weakness of the lungs, or of the kidneys or of the liver or of the brain—Wichita, (Kan.) Eagle.

LOCAL NEWS

F. B. Howes, a farmer residing near this city, raised 8,000 pounds of Mexican beans on ten acres of ground, disposing of the entire crop here yesterday at four cents a pound.

The artistic window display at the Five and Ten cent store on Douglas avenue is the cynosure of all eyes. Lace curtains and table covers are intermingled attractively with corn stalks from the mesa.

William Baxter was arraigned before Justice of the Peace D. R. Murray this morning on the charge of vagrancy. Lacking the cash for the usual fine, he was given eight days on the street.

W. T. Reed has purchased the fixtures of Lewis Brady's barber shop in the old Exchange building on the plaza and removed them to his shop on Bridge street with the exception of a mirror case which was sold to A. L. Gump of the East side.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. W. J. Mills for a bridge party to be given at her home on Seventh street Thursday afternoon, and a euchre party, Saturday afternoon, both of which entertainments will be complimentary to her sister Miss Waddingham, of New York, who has been her guest for a number of weeks.

Mrs. Pearl Rhodes is suffering from injuries sustained by falling headlong down a flight of rear stairs at the Rawlins house, Sunday. She made a miscalculation, lost her balance, and fell from the top to the bottom of the stairway. While she is severely bruised, yet she escaped luckily enough, considering the distance she fell.

WIDOW SEEKS TITLE TO VALUABLE LAND

Attorney W. B. Bunker appeared before the land grant board this morning in the interests of Mrs. Sarah Winter Kellogg, widow of the late Geo. M. Kellogg, who conducted a drug store on the Springer corner where the Antlers saloon now stands, some years ago.

The land claimed by Mrs. Kellogg was purchased at foreclosure proceedings from the late C. W. Wiley, the first mayor of East Las Vegas, and consists of eighty acres on the Mora road, three miles north of the city.

The plaintiff seeks a clear title to the land. Mrs. Kellogg is well remembered by old-time Las Vegas, and is now living in Aberdeen, Wash. She is an authoress of considerable note.

Attorney Elmer E. Veeder has returned from a business trip to Albuquerque, Laguna and other points in the lower country.

MILLION DOLLAR MINE SUIT IS COMPROMISED

Council Bluffs, Ia., Oct. 5.—The famous Doyle-Burns million dollar mine suit, involving a half interest in the Portland mine at Cripple Creek, Colo., was settled out of court today. The terms of settlement were not made public, but the costs of the suit which has run for years, will be paid by both parties.

Operated Wilcox, who has been a typhoid fever patient at the railroad hospital here, returned to Springer yesterday afternoon.
